

B.1. How important is it to you, that wind power is historically significant to Rhode Island?

8thc Persia 17thc Holland 19thc Ohio 19thc Crete 20th century Time

Wind Powered Mills Dominated the 1875 Portsmouth, RI Skyline

Quaker Hill From Butt's Hill Looking South View From Butt's Hill Looking North

* B.1. How important is it to you, that wind power is historically significant to Rhode Island?

Very Important	Important	Somewhat Important	Not Very Important	Not At All Important	Need More Information
<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>	<input type="radio"/>

Narration:

Wind energy has a long and distinguished history. Wind energy was first put into productive use in 8th Century Persia. Holland became famous in the 17th century for its windmills and in Ohio they were already making electricity, charging batteries. By the 19th centuries, windmills were venerated landmarks in Rhode Island, objects of pride and preservation.

Next >>